Agenda Item 8. Old Business

- a. Update: IRL Enhanced Circulation and Flow (Duane De Freese)
Duane De Freese provided an update on the status of a pilot flushing study. He reviewed the FIT modeling study that had been commissioned that modeled segments of the lagoon and their water flow under scenarios where causeways are removed. It was his feeling that the current level of interest and available options do not support the IRLNEP taking the lead on a pilot project.

Vince Lamb commented that the public wants to see the energy of the NEP behind a project. The lack of action is a poor perception among the public.

Duane agreed but offered that such a project is larger than the capacity of the NEP. Duane sees it as a state or federal project, not an NEP project. Construction costs alone could be in the $10 million range.

Duane requested guidance on recommended next steps. By show of hands, 7 members were adamantly opposed to ocean enhanced flow; 16 people recommended keeping this option on the table; and 2 people recommended moving ahead immediately to a pilot project.

Requested Action: No action requested. Update will cover progress to date.

- b. Risk-Based Vulnerability Assessment - Survey (Randy Parkinson/Valerie Seidel)
Requested Action: Participation in an exercise to provide feedback for the Risk-Based Vulnerability Assessment.

Randy Parkinson gave an update on the Risk-based Vulnerability Assessment for the IRL. Dan Dougherty of Balmoral Group conducted real time polling of how climate risks affect living resources, human-built environments, and ecological factors.

Break for Lunch

- c. Draft CCMP roll out (Duane De Freese and Marcy Frick, Tetra Tech)
Requested Action: No Motion was requested. Update was for information only.

Duane De Freese, Marcy Frick and Matt Shelton from Tetra Tech updated members on progress in revising the CCMP.

Major changes to the format of the plan have been implemented, the CCMP has been aligned with program projects and goals; EPA performance measures have been incorporated and goals aligned with EPA evaluation criteria; deliverables of the NEP have been clearly identified; and a project inventory has been generated.
