7. Water Quality Reports

- a. Northern and Central Lagoon (Dr. Chuck Jacoby, SJRWMD)

Dr. Chuck Jacoby reported that all water levels continue to recede. Salinity in December and January was highest in Mosquito and Vero, as is consistent. Water temperatures dipped in late December and returned. Chlorophyll-a showed activity at Cocoa and Eau Gallie, which coincided with the temperature dips. The C-1 Canal re-diversion of water from October to December removed nitrogen and phosphorus.

b. Southern Lagoon (Dr. Melanie Parker, SFWMD)

Dr. Melanie Parker reported that the release of water from Lake Okeechobee has caused a slight decrease in salinity. The water remains at the optimal level for oysters at HR1 and US1 Bridge, and the A1A Bridge site fell to the upper stressful range. Oyster recruitment rates peaked in the Spring of 2022, decreased substantially in July but occurred consistently through December. Densities have increased steadily since March 2022.

Ms. Thurlow-Lippisch asked if a monitoring device was located on the south fork of the St. Lucie River, as this is the location of the Lake Okeechobee flow. USGS once provided the data, but due to budget cuts, it was removed. Dr. Parker will look for monitoring information for this location. Also requested was an updated satellite image of the area to accurately display the area. Discussion between Ms. Thurlow-Lippisch and Dr. Parker on the lake level and why it is necessary to release water to reduce the level at this time of year to have the least impact on wildlife.

Mr. Bournique asked why the ACOE was releasing water at this level when the dikes and levees can hold higher amounts of water. Dr. Parker's reply was that she is not privy to the decision-making process.

8. PRESENTATIONS

Why We Should Focus on the Science of Equity, Diversity and Inclusion (David Jones)

David Jones, Diversity of Thought, Inc., presented the benefits of communicating and building bridges with priority populations to advance the goals of the IRLNEP and to develop access to the IRLNEP.
